

STUDIO JOSEPH WATTS

EL SEGUNDO, CALIFORNIA

FURNITURE

“Our work is influenced by the many examples of modernist and craftsman styles of architecture we find in our Southern California environs. Minimalist artists of the 1960’s, especially Donald Judd, have inspired our concern for the physical integrity of the work and our commitment to the pristine quality and finish of the object itself. These art and architectural influences have inspired the tenants of our work.

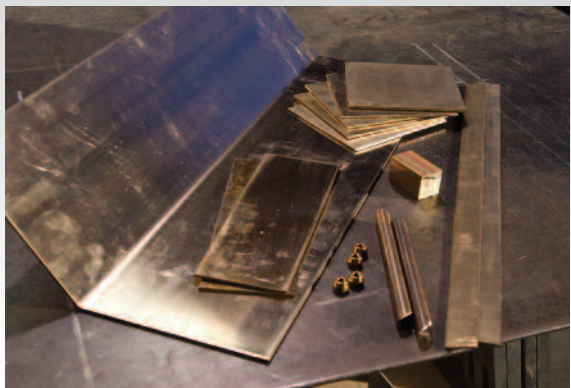

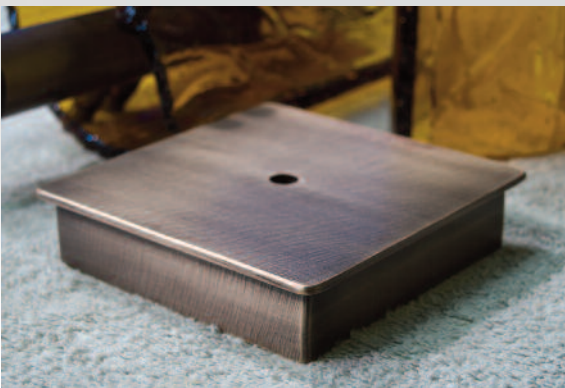

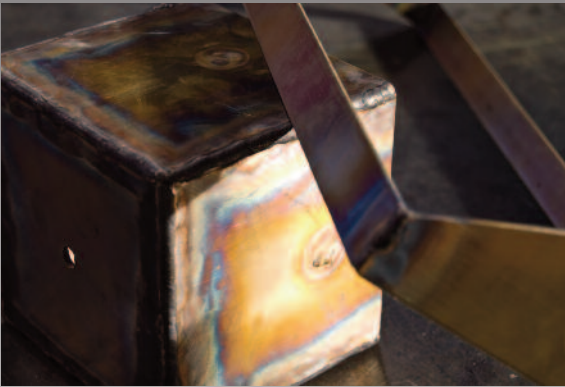

Enduring Real Quality. These three words dictate design, dictate materials, and dictate craftsmanship at Studio Joseph Watts.

When visiting one of our showrooms, examine the work closely. You will see solid bronze or solid stainless steel that is hand grained and finished. Woods are solid and exotic and each piece is hand oil rubbed.

The lighting glass is formed, worked, and edged in our kilns.

Each piece is artisan studio made and built for a lifetime.”
